GENERAL REGULATIONS.

THE Scriptures are read and prayer offered every morning in the chapel, where the Chancellor or one of the Professors officiates, and the students are required to be present.

Students whose parents reside in the city, are supposed to live in their own families ; for those who come from a distance, boarding may be obtained in respectable private families.

Any student who shall injure or deface the building, in addition to such penalties as the Faculty shall see fit to inflict, will be subject to the expense occasioned by the necessary repairs.

Habitual indolence and inattention to study, will be regarded as an offence against the laws and the spirit of the institution ; and will be made the subject of such discipline as the Faculty may deem expedient.

Any student who frequents billiard rooms, taverns, or other places of corrupting influence, will not be allowed to remain a member of the University.

All instances of absence from chapel and recitation, or tardy attendance upon the same, unless explained by a note from the parent or guardian, or otherwise satisfactorily accounted for to the officiating Professor, will be communicated to the parent or guardian. No student will be permitted to leave the city during term-time, unless a request to that effect be made by his parent or guardian.

No meeting of the students shall be held in the University for the transaction of any kind of business, unless by permission of the Chancellor.

UNIVERSITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

PROFESSOR JOHNSON, RECTOR.

Classical and Mathematical Department.

This Department has been in successful operation for nine years. Its objects are to give its pupils a thorough preparation for the University, and other Colleges, or for business.

The pupils are divided into four progressive classes, in a regular four years' course of study. The lowest class begins the Latin, and pupils of the English and French Department are for this purpose, when their parents wish it, transferred to this Department.

THE FOURTH CLASS is employed in exercises in Latin Grammar and Translation, Arithmetic, Modern Geography, General History, and the reading and spelling of English.

THE THIRD CLASS continues the same studies, with the addition of Cæsar, Cornelius Nepos, Latin Composition, and Ancient Geography ; the Greek commenced.

THE FIRST CLASS pursues Virgil ; Cicero's Orations ; Xenophon, Homer, and the New Testament ; Greek Prosody, and Mythology ; Algebra, Geometry, and Natural Philosophy ; Principles of General Grammar, and Ancient History.

School hours from 9 to 3 o'clock, with two or three short intervals of recess. Those who are deficient, are liable to be detained, or called back to the rooms in the afternoon, or on Saturday, to make up their deficiencies.

DISCIPLINE.—The experience of past years, induces us to hope, that, strengthened by the co-operation of parents, we may not be compelled to depart from the mild measures which have hitherto been effectual in securing good order and industrious habits. We do not, however, pledge ourselves not to resort to corporal punishment, if, under all the circumstances, we think the pupil will be benefitted by it. A record is kept of attendance, scholarship, and conduct, and periodical reports are sent to parents.

In cases of lateness or absence, a written excuse must be sent by the parent or guardian.

INTELLECTUAL AND MORAL CULTURE.—The Classical as well as the English recitations are constantly calling forth remarks on English Philology and Grammar, History, Morals and Manners. To form the manners, and develop the moral principles of the pupils, in connection with their daily employments, is our first care ; and to prevent mischief, or to cure it in its first beginnings, is our constant endeavor.

EXAMINATION.—The public examination of the School is in April ; but parents and guardians are invited to visit the School at any time, and observe the manner in which its daily work is performed. The final examination of the Senior Class is at the close of the Academic year. The Rector will recommend for admission to the Freshman Class, such students only as have the approbation of the Head Masters.

The bills are payable at the School Rooms on the middle day of the quarter. The charge in the bill begins from the day of entering the School, and extends to the end of the current quarter.

The first quarter of the next Academic year begins on the first Monday of September ; and the fourth quarter ends six weeks before the first Monday of September, of the following year.

The other holidays are Thanksgiving day, a week at Christmas, Good Friday and the Fourth of July.

Applications for admission to the CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT, may be made at the School Rooms, North Wing ; and for admission to the ENGLISH AND FRENCH DEPARTMENT, at the School Rooms, South Wing, University Buildings.

N. B.—It is particularly requested that no pupil be furnished with money for any purpose during School hours.
